Dear Mr. Pierson:

Thank you for your correspondence received on March 10, 2011. That correspondence responded to Ohio EPA's NOV letter dated February 14, 2011.

The documentation provided was a laboratory report on the TCLP analysis of a sample of bead blaster dust which indicated that the bead blaster dust is not a hazardous waste.

My review of the documentation submitted indicates that Pennsylvania Tool Sales and Service, Inc. has adequately demonstrated abatement of the following violations from the January 26, 2011 inspection cited in my letter of February 14, 2011, specifically:

1. OAC Rule 3745-52-11 Waste Evaluation
2. OAC 3745-279-22(C)(1) Used Oil Containers Must Be Labelled With The Words "Used Oil"

Should you have any questions regarding this letter, please contact me at (330) 963-1165.

Sincerely,

Neil J. Wasilk
