Dear Mr. Geiger:

This letter is written in response to my storm water inspection of the operations associated with Geiger Recycling located at 477 Claycraft Road in Gahanna, Ohio. The inspection was conducted on November 16, 2006, to evaluate compliance with your Ohio EPA issued Storm Water Permit Associated with Construction Activities. Based on my site observations of the site and the conditions of the Storm Water Permit, the following items were noted.

Storm Water Management:

- The diversion at the extreme eastern end of the site had been installed to direct storm water from the processing area to the centralized impoundment intended for sediment control.
- Additional grading will be required to ensure storm water run-off from the extreme northwest corner is routed to the impoundment intended for sediment control.
- A diversion or berm is required to direct storm water run-off from southern fill slopes to the centralized sediment basin, or demonstrate an approvable alternative. The fill slopes are currently uncontrolled resulting in sediment laden discharges to Big Walnut Creek (see attached photo).
- I have received the sediment storage calculations for the large centralized sediment basin as requested. The calculations are currently subject to review.

Sediment and Erosion Controls:

- Continue seeding the northern slopes adjacent to Big Walnut Creek.
- Provide erosion protection for the barren areas off Claycraft Road.

- Continue with the installation of silt fence for all outlying areas not directed to the centralized sediment basin.
