Dear Mr. Paugh,

WARNING LETTER

On August 3, 2011, the Regional Air Pollution Control Agency (RAPCA) conducted an inspection of the construction site located at 655 Capston Dr. in Vandalia, Ohio. This site is owned by Carter Express, Inc. according to the City of Vandalia. The purpose of the investigation was to inspect the concrete curing and sealing coatings on site for compliance with Ohio's air pollution control regulations.

RAPCA representative Jason Simon met with the site's general contractor, Jason Christensen (Fredericks Inc.) and concrete subcontractor Simon King (Metcon Ltd.). RAPCA documented 16, 55-gallon drums of general purpose cure and seal (J-20 U.V.), manufactured by Dayton Superior, on site. The VOC content of this product is 654 grams/liter. The drums were labeled with a "Best if Used By" date of July 31, 2013. This product has a shelf life of two years and Dayton Superior confirmed that the manufacture date is two years prior to the "Best if Used By" date, or July 31, 2011. Mr. King stated that the coating was purchased from a Kansas supplier.

Pursuant to the architectural and industrial maintenance (AIM) coatings regulations contained in Ohio Administrative Code (OAC) rule and Montgomery County Combined General Health District Air Pollution Control Regulations (MCCGHDAPCR) section 3745-113-03 (A), on or after January 1, 2009, no person shall apply within the state of Ohio any AIM concrete curing compound with a VOC content in excess of 350 grams/liter. The VOC content of the J-20 U.V. (654 grams/liter) which was documented at your construction site exceeds the allowable limitation established by OAC rule and MCCGHDAPCR section 3745-113-03 (A). The manufacture date of July 31, 2011 does not qualify for the sell-through exemption in OAC rule and MCCGHDAPCR section 3745-113-03 (C) which permits the application of AIMs coatings manufactured prior to January 1, 2009.

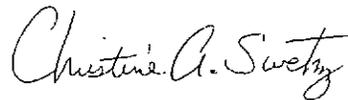

This letter serves as official notification that application of the Dayton Superior J-20 U.V. cure and seal documented on your property is a violation of OAC rule and MCCGHDAPCR section 3745-113-03 (A). During this inspection, RAPCA requested that the J-20 U.V. be removed from the site as soon as possible and replaced with a compliant coating. Please notify RAPCA when this replacement has been completed. RAPCA will be conducting a follow-up inspection to verify that the new coating is in compliance with the above regulations.

We appreciate your cooperation and prompt attention to this matter. If you have any questions regarding this information, you may contact me at (937) 496-7541 or Jason Simon at (937) 496-6751.

Sincerely,
