Dear Mr. Nemeth:

In a warning letter dated October 29, 2008, your company was notified of violations discovered during Ohio EPA's August 7, 2008, complaint investigation and compliance inspection of the Absolute Concrete, Inc. facility located at 40004 State Route 40 in Morristown, Ohio. The purpose of this letter is to clarify the emissions units to which two of the violations applied.

Violation #2 was for failure to record daily inspections of the emissions units at the facility in an operations log. Although this violation was identified as only applying to emissions unit F004 (the concrete batch plant), please be advised that the same requirements apply to the other three emissions units (F001, F002, and F003) at the facility. Thus, the copies of the inspection logs that were requested to demonstrate compliance with the recordkeeping requirements must document inspections of all four emissions units.

Violation #3 was for failure to submit the required semi-annual deviation reports for emissions unit F004. Please be advised that quarterly deviation reports are also required for emissions units F001, F002, and F003, and these reports have not been received to date. To fully resolve the deviation reporting violations, the company must begin submitting the quarterly and semi-annual deviation reports required for each emissions unit, beginning with the reports due January 15 (semi-annual for F004) and January 31, 2008 (quarterly for emissions units F001-F004).

The original response deadline for the October 29, 2008 warning letter was December 3, 2008, 30 days from your receipt on November 3, 2008. However, because the warning letter was incomplete, that deadline is being extended. Please provide a full response to both letters by December 17, 2008.
